GRANTS AND CONTRACTS

Externally Funded

Project Title: Not-For-Profit Hospital Community Benefit: Multi-Sectoral Collaboration in Local Health Planning to Improve Population Health, Equity, and Hospital Investment in the Social Determinants of Health (1K01HS029701)
Project Description: Collaboration between health systems and community partners has the potential to effectively address the social determinants of health (SDOH) and improve population health equity. The community benefit program for not-for-profit hospitals can be leveraged to require multisectoral collaboration and provides a natural experiment to understand whether multisectoral collaboration is effective. This proposal, through a supervised mentorship and training program, aims to examine the impact of collaboration between hospitals, health departments, and other community partners on population health equity and hospital investment in SDOH.
Funding Agency: Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality
Funding Period: September 2023 through September 2028
Funding Amount: $703,601
Role: Principal Investigator; 75% effort

Project Title: Medicaid Disenrollment: Plan Choices, Care Outcomes, and Financial Health Among Cancer Patients
Project Description: This study will examine the impact of Medicaid-to-private health insurance transitions on access to cancer care, out-of-pocket expenses, and financial well-being.
Funding Agency: Louisiana Cancer Research Center
Funding Period: June 2024 through May 2025
Funding Amount: $50,000
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

External Grants Under Review

Project Title: Health Insurance Coverage Disruptions, Care Continuity, and Financial Outcomes Among Individuals With Opioid Use Disorder (Scored in the 6th percentile; awaiting funding decision)
Project Description: Opioid use disorder (OUD) is a chronic, high-risk condition that requires continuous access to medications and supportive services to prevent relapse, overdose, and worsening physical and mental health.

Recent changes in the health insurance environment, including (1) the end of continuous Medicaid enrollment and (2) the expiration of enhanced Marketplace premium tax credits, may result in changes in coverage type, insurance status, and affordability, with potential consequences for treatment continuity, acute care utilization, mortality, and financial well-being among individuals with OUD. By linking all-payer claims data with mortality and credit report data, this project will generate timely, patient-level evidence on these health insurance coverage transitions, providing actionable information for patients, care teams, and healthcare organizations supporting continuity of OUD care.
Funding Agency: National Institute on Drug Abuse (R21)
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Title: Medicaid Disenrollment: Plan Choices, Care Outcomes, and Financial Health Among Cancer Patients (Submitted on 10/15/2026)
Project Description: Although cancer treatments can be highly effective, they are often expensive and impose substantial financial burdens on patients. Recent changes in the health insurance environment, including (1) the end of continuous Medicaid enrollment and (2) the expiration of enhanced Marketplace premium tax credits, may affect insurance coverage and affordability, with potential consequences for treatment continuity, acute care utilization, mortality, and financial well-being among patients with cancer. By linking all-payer claims data with mortality, cancer registry, and credit report data, this project will generate timely, patient-level evidence on these health insurance coverage transitions and their consequences, informing decisions by patients, care teams, and healthcare organizations to support continuity of cancer care.
Funding Agency: National Cancer Institute (R21)
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Title: Medicaid Disenrollment: Plan Choices, Care Outcomes, and Financial Health Among Cancer Patients
Funding Agency: American Cancer Society
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Title: Health Insurance Coverage Changes and Their Clinical and Financial Consequences Among Cancer Patients (Submitted on 09/10/2026)
Funding Agency: Blood Cancer United
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Title: Health Insurance Coverage Changes and Their Clinical and Financial Consequences Among Cancer Patients (Submitted on 10/29/2026)
Funding Agency: Tulane WSPH-SOM Collaborative Research Seed Awards
Role: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Title: Evaluating California's Hospital Financial Assistance and Medical Debt Protection Policies: Impact on Cancer-Related Hospital Utilization in Rural and Urban Communities
Funding Agency: National Institute for Health Care Management
Role: Co-Principal Investigator *with doctoral student mentee.

Internally Funded
Project Title: Hospital Tax Exemption and Program Integrity: The Impact of State Accountability Reforms on Charity Care and Bad Debt

Project Description: This study will evaluate impact of Oregon's presumptive eligibility requirement for hospital financial assistance and Washington's enhanced financial assistance eligibility standards and CB reporting requirements on hospital charity care provision and bad debt expenses
Funding Agency: Carol Lavin Bernick Family Foundation
Funding Period: June 2026 through May 2027
Funding Amount: $7,500
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: State-Level Financial Assistance Policies: Impact on Hospital Charity Care and Bad Debt Expenditures and County-Level Medical Debt in Collections
Project Description: This study will examine the association of state financial assistance policies with hospital charity care and bad debt expenditures, and county-level medical debt in collections.
Funding Agency: Tulane University Senate Committee on Research
Funding Period: June 2025 through May 2026
Funding Amount: $8,500
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: The State of Not-For-Profit Hospital Community Benefit Spending and Activities in Louisiana and Association with Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Filings
Project Description: This study will provide rigorous evidence on the state of hospital community benefit (CB) spending in clinical and non-clinical CB categories in Louisiana. We will use information from hospitals' most recent community health needs assessment and implementation strategy plans to describe the activities that hospitals are implementing to address identified community needs. We will also describe 10-year trends in community benefit spending.
Funding Agency: Tulane University Senate Committee on Research
Funding Period: June 2024 through May 2025
Funding Amount: $5,500
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: The State of Not-For-Profit Hospital Community Benefit Spending in Louisiana and COVID-19 Impacts
Project Description: This study will provide rigorous evidence on the state of hospital community benefit (CB) spending in Louisiana. We will compare trends in CB spending by LA hospitals to a control group of hospitals in the US South Census region; before and after COVID-19 was declared a public health emergency (PHE). We will also examine the association between hospital CB spending (e.g., charity care) with community socio-economic characteristics (e.g., social vulnerability metric) and hospital characteristics (e.g., financial performance and rurality).
Funding Agency: Murphy Institute
Funding Period: June 2024 through May 2025
Funding Amount: $3,000
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: The State of Not-For-Profit Hospital Community Benefit Spending and Activities in Louisiana
Project Description: This study conducted an in-depth review of not-for-profit hospital community benefit activities in Louisiana, including: 1) community health needs assessments; 2) implementation strategy priorities; 3) community benefit spending using data from the Internal Revenue Service.
Funding Agency: Carol Lavin Bernick Family Foundation
Funding Period: July 2023 through June 2024

Funding Amount: $8,000
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: Effectiveness of Behavioral Health Integration Into the Primary Care Setting
Project Description: This study examined the impact of behavioral health and substance use services integration in the primary care setting on patient access to care.
Funding Agency: Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania's Mack Institute for Innovation Management
Funding Period: July 2021 through June 2023
Funding Amount: $10,000
Role: Principal Investigator

Project Title: Economic analysis of the financial sustainability of a health home model under alternative reimbursement approaches
Project Description: This study examined the financial sustainability of different reimbursement approaches for primary care practices that integrated behavioral health services, and community mental health centers that integrated primary care.
Funding Agency: Jefferson Center for Mental Health. Parent grant: CO State Innovation Model: Bi-Directional Integration of Physical and Mental Health funded by Center for Medicare & Medicaid Innovation: State Innovation Model
Funding Period: January 2017 through June 2020
Funding Amount: $79,700
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
